

Penitentiary Rich: From Nothing to Something

Penitentiary Rich, born William Reed, is a man who has lived a life of extremes. From a childhood of poverty and crime, he rose to become a successful businessman and philanthropist. His story is an inspiration to us all, and it shows that it is never too late to turn your life around.

Reed was born in 1964 in the Robert Taylor Homes, a notorious housing project in Chicago. His father was a drug addict and his mother worked two jobs to support the family. Reed grew up in a world of poverty and violence, and he began selling drugs at the age of 12.

In 1983, Reed was arrested for murder and sentenced to life in prison. He spent the next 21 years in prison, where he found God and turned his life around. He earned his GED and a college degree, and he became a mentor to other inmates.
